

Types of image processing

- Two main types of image processing operations:
  - Spatial domain operations (in image space)
  - Frequency domain operations (mainly in Fourier space)
- Two main types of spatial domain operations:
  - Point operations (intensity transformations on individual pixels)
  - Neighbourhood operations (spatial filtering on groups of pixels)